SELECTED FOR PEACE SERVICE. da W. P. Jackson of St. Albans Engaged for

Two Years' Contract. St. Albans, July 2.-Word has been received here that W. P Jackson, formerly of this city, has signed up for peace time community service, which will follow war camp service as soon as the war is declared at an end. Mr. Jackson has sign for two years with an increase in salary, beginning July 1. He is still at Camp Dix, where he has been in war n community service, co-operating with the war department commission of training camp activities. Mr. Jackson for several years was pas tor of the First Congregational church in this city, resigning his pastorate and relinquishing his ministerial title to take the superintendency of the Stranahan Memorial club, which he conducted successfully until about a year and a half ago, when it was closed as a measure of onomy for the duration of the war. At that time Mr. Jackson was engaged in war work. The character of the work done by Mr. Jackson at Camp Dix is shown by the fact that only 50 men in the entire country have been taken for the peace time service and he was among the first to be selected.

CUT HAY EARLY.

By Earl Jones, Massachusetts Agricultural College.

One problem of the dairy farms is to improve the quality of the roughage produced on the farm. Growing legume hays will do this, but farmers who have only grass hay can get a better quality by harvesting earlier than usual. The advantages of early cutting of hay are as

1. Early cut grass is more nutritious than that cut later, because it contains more digestible protein and more digestiday and Friday: 2 to 3 p. m., Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday: 2 to 3 p. m., Tuesday, and Thursday. more digestible protein and more digestible nutrients per ton. Timothy cut in full bloom contains 1.3 per cent more digestible protein than timothy nearly ripe. Timothy is richest in protein when cut at the beginning of bloom, and the same is true of other grasses.

2. The digestibility of grasses decreases as they mature, as does also their palatability for young stock and dairy

3. The rowen crop is greater where the first crop is cut early. In feeding value rowen compares very favorably with

There is another side to this question: 1. Early cut hay is more difficult to cure than that cut later.

2. The yield from early cut hav is not as large as from late-cut hay. However, with early-cut hay, the rowen crop will he surer and larger. 3. Cutting hay early interferes with corn cultivation, and this is a serious objection. Some work the previous year towards eradicating witch grass, the use of the harrow and weeder in cultivating corn, and a fitting in of the one or two practices will help solve this problem. In his connection it should be remembered that corn large enough to shade the ground does not need cultivation except for the purpose of killing weeds. There are farmers who have practiced Mearly cutting of hay for some years with satisfactory results. There is no question about the superiority of early cut hay for feeding dairy cows and young stock, although for feeding horses and for market later cut hay, not too ripe, is good. Can the work on the farm be arranged so that there will be more of this good quality roughage available for the cows

On Monday evening the school present ed Shakespeare's "As You Like It" on the dormitory lawn, which had been transformed into a veritable forest. The roduction of the play was under the direction of Miss Madeline Randall and the music under the direction of Miss Emma Elliott. Many successful out-ofdoor dramatic performances have been given by the students of this school, but this was probably the most artistic piece pistols or other so-called dangerous noise of work ever done by the students. The makers used in that city on July 4. The color effects in the costuming, which was chief of police has issued orders to that Albert Spear of New York caught a as the play progressed. There was a

On Tuesday the school enjoyed a pie nic at Lake Elen. Miss Lucy Wheelock of the Wheelock school, Boston, gave the ommencement address on Wednesday morning. This was both scholarly and full of inspiration for all who heard it. The alumni luncheon followed, at which many of the former classes were represented. Lyman R. Allen of Salem, of every department in the shops, num- Mass., a former principal of the school, was toastmaster. All at the school is now in readiness for the summer session, which opens on Monday, July 7, and at which a large attendance is expected. An especially strong faculty has been secured. Several special lecturers of national reputation will give either single lectures or a se ries of lectures.

Many interesting week-end trips have been planned.

Prepare for the 4th of July surplus stock of good Soda Water for the Fourth of July rush. As you know, aging in the bottle always im-proves the flavor of Soda Water when the water is pure, as ours always is. July Fourth comes on Friday; therefore, it will be a good plan for you to get your order in for a couple of cases, at least a few days in advance; as our entire delivery force will be pushed to the limit on Thursday. You will double the joy of the national holiday by giving your family and friends all the good Soda Water they can drink. And remember this Fourth is going to be a stirring one, with the patriotic spirit fanned into a flame by the war-like state of the world. Order now.
